

Fae Ershig

April 6, 1913 - June 16, 2008

Fae Weber Ershig, 95, Henderson, died at 6:15 a.m. Monday June 16, 2008, at Methodist Hospital. She was born in 1913 in Oakland City, Indiana; and was preceded in death by her husband, Harvey Lee Ershig who died in 1950.

Fae loved her church and for many years was a member of the choir and the Women's Circle. At the death of her husband, she operated his business, Harvey's Home and Auto Supply located on First Street in Henderson. She eventually changed the business to Harvey's Linen and Gift Shop located at Tenth and Green. After selling her business, she found great joy in working at the Old Clark House which fed into her interest in antiques. Fae's love of life and faith in the hereafter has always been an inspiration to her family. She accepted problems with courage-always looking on the bright side. Her yard showed her great love of flowers, and her love for reading was evident through her frequent trips to the library. Not only did she support her family, but she brought to them many moments of laughter. She helped her loved ones understand and accept her departure from this earth by her desire to enter the Church Triumphant.
