“ Here is the text of my remarks at my father’s memorial service, for those who were unable to attend.

Thank you all for being here. If you prayed for my father, your prayers are answered. My father was a gentle and peaceful man. A man of few words, but someone who could always be counted on. He spent his life doing the things he loved, doing the hard things that he had to and always doing his part. He was more humble than he needed to be but those who loved him knew how great he was. In the sermon on the mount, Jesus said, lay up treasures in heaven where moth and rust doeth not corrupt and thieves do not break through nor steal. He did that countless times, giving of himself and of things.

He wasn’t perfect. As the poet said, no farther seek his merits to disclose, or draw his frailties from their dread abode. There they alike in trembling hope repose, the bosom of his father and his God. May we pray. Our most gracious Heavenly Father, on earth may you reign. Thank you for thy creation and thy mercy. May Thy glorious spirit be upon us at this time that the love of Jesus may be felt in these hearts heavy with grief. We pray that my father’s faith in the atonement of His precious blood makes him acceptable in thy sight and he is even now crowned in Glory. Comfort us, oh Lord, in this time of sorrow, in Jesus’ name we humbly ask all these things, amen.

*Thank you for all of the expressions of sympathy we have received at this difficult time,
Harral Bruce Howard*
