“ We are truly saddened to hear of the passing of our Pope Street neighbor. She and I were both still in the work force, so we didn't see each other much, but our "retired" husbands "porch talked" all the time. Deepest sympathy to Terry and the rest of the family. Dwight and Karen Watson

“ My mama is such an amazing woman. She is the most kind, loving & selfless person you could ever have the pleasure of being around. She has the kindest heart & is the cornerstone of our family. The pain we are feeling right now is immeasurable. I told her repeatedly that God surely knew I needed her as my mama. I cannot fathom a world without her in it. She is my example of how to be & my hero. I know she is reunited with her own mom now & I long for the day I can be with her again.

“ Jennifer, As you know, I don't know your mother, but I see such light and kindness in her eyes in her picture. Truly, you were blessed to be the daughter of such a person. I trust that you will find comfort in memories of the time you spent together. I will hold you in my prayers.

I will never ever forget our childhood days spent on the farm in the Geneva Bottoms. We had SO much fun and laughter would echo. We played hide n' seek, we hid in the hay loft pulling hay bales over our little self made cave, they NEVER found us! And sitting in the porch swing or with our chairs leaned back against the house with legs swinging smelling the rain coming across the fields, riding ole' Dan and Trixy bare back with rope halters, riding back to the river on hot days and jumping in. The kids took a bath in a large galvanized tub and later run up the stairs to bed where we told stories and laugh until we fell asleep. When we woke, we slid down the banister for the bacon biscuits and gravy we knew would be waiting for us. Judy taught me to milk the ole' cow, we churned cream into butter, had taffy pulls, foot races, chased snakes from the hen house and raccons from the tool shed after they chewed up old Brownie. I remember a difficult time for her was leaving McDonalds Landing, She had raised her children there, lived years of her life there, it was home!

Adapting to a new life was difficult for her but she lifted her chin as she had done before and walked on. She loved her life and her family were always her strength.

lif There are just so many memories of her, she was such a sweet loving special person. She loved her family above everything, she felt so blessed to have each of her beautiful children and Terry in her life, she would say she had all life could offer her, she was so happy, content and fulfilled. She felt God had blessed her with her life. But factually, WE were the blessed ones, blessed for having known her, shared in her life, to have been her friend or family that she loved so much. We may have an empty chair, but oh the memories she left with us, memories that bring warm thoughts and smiles to comfort us. What a legacy this little country girl became..Continual prayers for the family she loved and for the friends she touched..
