“ Julie was one of a kind. I met Julie in Robards when I was a young girl. My brother AJ was best buds w Jacob, so our families were linked early on. Our families remained close after Jacob passed, then eventually lost touch. Throughout the years I would run into Julie... we would reminisce, share hugs and catch up. Then my brother passed in 2010, and I remember feeling so happy to see her and Josh at the funeral home. It meant sooo much to have them there if only for a short moment. Julie and my mom now shared the most heartbreaking bond of losing a son. The worst loss a person can experience. And Josh and I now shared the painful loss of our brothers. Their presence at the funeral home that day was somehow reassuring that my mom and I would make it.. we would survive this somehow bc they did.

I kept in touch w Julie via Facebook and would run into her around town. I loved her and she loved me. Time and distance didn't diminish that love and care for one another. I know she had a rough way to go at times, but she loved Josh and her grandson Jacob with all she was. It breaks my heart to know she's left this earth...but I know she's in good company up there in Heaven. And she's at peace. Josh has some pretty awesome angels watching over him. We love u Julie. U gave birth to two guys I'll always love. Jacob and Josh.

Josh I love u always and I'll always be here for u.
