“ Just wanted to let the family know they have been in my thoughts and prayers. I have fond memories of Marshall in my Kindergarten classroom. He was a happy young man full of energy. I remember how kind this family was to open their home to the entire Kindergarten class at Christmas time and host a traditional family Christmas and Marshall even played the violin. It is an awesome memory and set a great example to me and every child in that classroom as to what a traditional family Christmas should look and feel like...full of love and joy. So sorry for this sudden lose of such a fine young man. You will continually be in my prayers over the next weeks.

“ Marshall Blackburn--A fine student and fine young man with a good sense of humor. A pleasure and a privilege to have in class and the same sentiments apply toward his parents! A great loss to us all. But in the invisible realm there is a mansion prepared just for him with the name "Marshall Blackburn, Esquire" on the nameplate. We have that promise from the Lord Himself. He knows and sees lots of things that we can never know in our earthly pods.
