I loved my daddy very much. There was nothing he could not do. He only said I love you to me in words a couple of times but his actions spoke much louder than words. I was a daddy's girl. He always had the advice I needed. I don't know of anyone he met that was ever a stranger or didn't think the world of him. He worked hard to support my family and also made sure that my mother would always be provided for. My mother and him were married 55 years as of September 18, 2011. He will be dearly missed, but I take comfort in knowing he is with our "Almighty God". I am sure he is watching over us now as well. I guess I never wanted to imagine not having my daddy here on earth with us. I try to not think about him being gone and just pretend that he is just at home in Kentucky and we are in Missouri with the military. However, he is in my thoughts to much to do that. Daddy, I will always love you and carry you in my heart always!!!!

“ i always will remember Uncle Kenny in lots of ways.. we lost another loved one this year as well and we have comfort knowing we will see them again... i know he was my dads best friend .. keep in mind whoever reads this i dont care about paragraphs and where my comas etc should go and all that Uncle Kenny would not of cared either .. so i will just type til I am finished..... we spent alot of holidays together as a family from my child hood up until fairly recent.. he was always sure to let you know he was there.. lots of stories to tell... you never knew what he was going to say next.. i know how much he loved the holidays and i still cant believe he is gone.. i used to make him a cheese ball for Christmas so there was a sadness when i made cheese balls for others this year seems goofy but that when it really hits you someone is not coming back..... his entire family loved him very much and my heart is with my cousin probably more than anyone because she lost her dad this year and I cant imagine life without mine... i know Uncle Kenny worked very hard his whole life and was willing to do anything for anyone and he did several times like taking my mom potato soup to her house when she was sick .. its the simple things that mean so much to us.. i want to end this saying to all who loved him and to let you all know that IN CHRIST THERE ARE NO GOODBYES LOVE YOU GUYS...
