“ Dear Nina,
first i just want to say that i miss you so very much an as well as that I Love You.

Being in school with you was the best thing in the world since you was the one that understood me an actually helped me get through the day. You was the person that made my day better when i was down..

You was my strength when i was weak, you was my voice when i couldnt speak an you was my eyes when i couldn't see, and you gave me faith because you believed in me...

I'm sorry I couldn't say anything else to u when i you left school that day, i just wish i could have done something to help an mostly the reason why i didn't visit u in the hospital is because thats not the way i wanted to see you an i knew i would have broken down, just like i am now. :( but i did go to your funeral an i bawled like a baby...

Girl, when you left the world I was blaming myself, idk why.. I was asking god to take me when he took you so we can be closer in heaven.. i was also asking god "WHY" was he taking u away from me so early... I miss you so much. i know i havent visited your grave or anything, but i just dont want that memory in my head.. i love you an miss you girl.. I am getting a tattoo in your favor an yes i will add a picture so you can see it...

well girl, i have to go now, but until then God take care of my BEST FRIEND..
