

Norman Ray Green

June 12, 1934 - February 22, 2018

Norman Ray Green, age 83, of Henderson, KY, joined his wife Darlene in the presence of Jesus on February 22, 2018 at Redbanks Nursing Home under the care of St. Anthony's Hospice.

Ray was born on June 12, 1934. He worked for the City of Henderson, Fairmont Cemetery and Chrysler Corporation before moving to North Carolina. He was retired from truck driving for one of the textile mills in North Carolina. Along the way Ray learned to be an upholster and for many years he was self employed and was in demand for the beautiful upholstery work he did. For the last year Ray has been a resident at Redbanks Nursing Home where everyone was helpful and caring. Ray was a member of Airline Baptist Church where he loved to sing God's praises, he also enjoyed to sing at Redbanks Towers, and Redbanks Nursing Home. He loved life and joking with people. He especially loved his great great nephew, Landon "Little Big Man" Watson.

Ray was preceded in death by his wife, Darlene, second wife, Daphne, parents, Carl and Marie Green, a brother, Carl Eugene Green, a baby brother, James Earl at 6 months, and a good friend, Betty Thompson.

Survivors include:

Son: Charles R. Green and wife Rhonda of Kannapolis, NC

Grandchildren: Missy Green of Huntersville, NC, and Emily Dauwe of Charlotte, NC

Great Granddaughter: Sidney Ann Dauwe of Charlotte, NC

Sister and Caregiver: Venida Pfeffer and husband James

“ Ray was my first cousin on my mother's side. His mom and mine were sisters. Although Ray was sixteen years older, I still recall his gentle nature and endearing smile! Also, I remember his love of music. He moved away and spent many years in NC, but I was happy when I heard he returned home. I'm certain it was hard to leave his son behind, but he spent his final years with family that loved him dearly. Go rest high on that mountain, dear Ray.
