“ If I could describe Mr. Wilson in one word it would be "strong". We have lost a fighter here on earth, but heaven has gained the sweetest of angels. I know he is watching over his one and only, Donna, and Jamie, Jason and of course Ellie Mae. You have set the best example and taught me about true love within a family. Mr. Wilson has the biggest heart, and he is missed each and every day. Love and prayers to you all.

“ Donna, I will never forget Russell singing that night at Hope Lodge when we were all in the game room working on those puzzles! What a beautiful voice he had. And now I know he and Flenoy are singing in that Heavenly choir together! I know it is hard now but I promise you one thing - it will get a little easier with time. You and you family will be in my prayers. Love you. Wanda Rogers

“ I am so very honored and thankful to have the opportunity to care for Mr. Wilson as his nurse. He was "my man." He fought harder than anyone I have ever seen. I am sad that God has called him to heaven, but grateful for all the amazing memories and laughs. He truly influenced my life for years to come. My husband and I mirror their marriage as a model for our own. He was a wonderful father and could always make making Jamie laugh a priority. We would listen to country music (very loud of course) many nights and break all of the rules Donna had set for him while she had to be away (which was so rare). I miss him so much but know that he is watching down on us from heaven. His platelets are a million up there! To Donna and Jamie... thank you for sharing him with me. Let me know if there is absolutely anything I can do for you guys. He would not want you sad. He is no longer in pain and can see and hear everything you guys are doing. Love you all so very much. Please stay in touch!

“ To the Wilson Family-We were so blessed to have come to know Russell in Nashville at Hope Lodge and Sarah Cannon. We knew from the first moment that he was someone special. We laughed, we cried, we helped each other out all we could, we had endless doctor appointments and late night runs to the ER, but through it all Russell always managed that sweet little smile of his--you know the one. We are grateful and also honored to be placed among his friends--Russell--we are proud to have known you, love and miss you and you will forever be in our hearts, Mark Wright and Linda Watson.
