“ Aunt Bea,

I know God received an amazing angel, when you left us here on Earth. He gave you wings so you could fly high above. He also gave us our faith that one day we will see you again.

As you sing God's praise in the Heaven's above, we celebrate your life. Your kindness, strong will, empathy, compassion, determination, and most of all your love (God, family, friends, and the little things of life) will be forever in our hearts.

The moments we shared are forever engraved in my heart and mind....

You taught me to always give a helping hand to those in need. Some will thank you and some may not, but God always knows when you are caring for one of his own. To always help for God's glory and not our own.

You taught me, though the hills of life (like the one your home sat upon), may be steep, one can always reach the top through lots of hard work (like the many hours you spent on the farm and cooking) and lots of rest (like when I would lay beside you for hours and watch your hands needlepoint, while watching "Wheel of Fortune").

Bike rides to Aunt Bea's

Brian and I rode a million miles back and forth between our house and yours. You always had cold tea and a snack for us. We would sit for a while and listen to your stories. Some of my favorite: how when times were tough, popcorn became your cereal. How you girls (Granny, Aunt Mary, Aunt Chal, and you) would make dolls from the husk of the corn. How when the work was done in the kitchen it was time to go to the fields. Oh, how we will forever cherish those stories.

And memories...

Till we meet again....I love you, Aunt Bea.

“ Everyone should have a Aunt Bee. After my parents died she was my leaning post. I will miss her so much. What a great cook she was and she could really put a meal on the table. She was a good lady, hard worker and a good christian lady. I know that Uncle Larken will be so glad she has come home. Being the last member of her family they are all together now. Good memories. Love you, Aunt Bee

“ I know I only spoke with you for a short time last year. But it brought back a lot of memories from the early years. I was so sorry of reading of your Mother's passing. She was always nice to Mother and Dad. Now, your Mom and Dad are back together in Heaven. Hope the best for yall through these times. God will be there for you.

“ Mr. and Mrs. Busby were essentially a third set of grandparents for my siblings and I growing up on Jones Brothers Road. I will forever miss Mrs. Busby's sweet and kind demeanor as well as her delicious home cooking she took so much pride in. You always knew you weren't going to leave their home without a full belly. She was truly one of a kind, and a testament to hard work via her gardening and genuine homemaking skills. I will never forget my trips to see her when I would ask for permission to hunt or fish on her property. She was very distinct in telling me to come and go as I please only on the condition that I shoot every coyote I saw as she was terrified of them. I always tried to my best to accomodate her wishes. It was an honor to have known her.

Joey Thomas*
